Rules & Codes of Conduct

Regina Minor Football abides by the Canadian Amateur Football Rules and Regulations.

As a society, it is expected that people behave in a proper and civilized manner when at football functions. Common sense and respect for one another is expected. Players, coaches, parents, spectators, and volunteers are required to adhere to the codes of conduct outlined by RMF and Canadian Amateur Football. Abuse of any type directed at participants, officials, or any persons working within the operations of the football environment will NOT be tolerated!

RMF Game Day officials, along with referees, reserve the right to halt game play if severe infractions are observed. Removal of the offending person(s) from the facilities may be deemed necessary if the offense continues.

Regina Minor Football appreciates your cooperation in making football an exciting, positive experience for everyone!
